QUIET BUT ELEGANT AFFAIR

Though No Invitations Were Sent On Account of Bereavement, Church Thronged.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) LYNCHBURG, VA., November 22.--An legant, though very quiet, wedding took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Court Street Methodist Church, in this city, when Miss Ruth Jennings, daugater of Representative Tipton D. Jonrings, of this city, became the wife of Mr. St. John Alison Lawton, of Charleston, S. C. Owing to recent bereavements in the families of the principals, no invitations were issued to the wedding Sull, a large number of relatives and witations were issued to the wedding. Still, a large number of relatives and friends through the church. The auditonium was handsomely decorated for the occasion. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. G. C. Kelly, paster of the church, who was assisted by Rev. Dr. W. J. Young, of Richmond, and Rev. Ernest Stovens, pastor of Memorian Methodist Church, of this city.

As the wedding party entered the church, Professor W. S. Adams, the organist, of the church, played the well known Mendelssohn's march. The ushers entered first, who, in pairs, went down the two side alsies, until they reached the chancel. Here they crossed to the side opposite from which they entered and took their positions. They were followed by Mrs. Arthur Jennings and Miss Elizabeth Gish, who were gowned in white net over white taffeta, and trimmed with Irish lace. They were picture hats and long gloves to match. Then came the remaining four ushers, and then, in the center alsie, the maid of honor, Miss Annie Lind Forsberg, who was followed by the little flower piris, Misses Anne and Elizabeth Jennings, who carried plak roses. Lastly came the bride, leaning on the arm of her father. She was dressed in a white lace princess gown over chiffen and taffeta, and her long veil was caught with a spray of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white violets. The bride was met at the chancel by the groom and his best man, Dr. Edward Frost Parker, of Charleston. The brider party presented a pretty and imposing scene as Dr. Kelly preceded with the impressive service of the Methodist.

Church.

The party, led by the bride and groom, left the church in reverse order as the large organ filled the church with the girains of the bridal chorus from Lohengrin.

The entire party drove immediately to the home of the bride's parents, where a brief reception was field. An hour later Mr. and Mrs. Lawson left over the Southern for a trip through the North. This will last several weeks, after which they will go by steamship to their future home in Charleston.

Christmas About 30 Days Off is it not natural that one's thoughts should turn to Christmas Gifts? Is it not also true that when one's thoughts turn to Christmas gifts that a fine Upright Piano is thought of as a most appropriate present—one that would be received with such a delightful welcome as to make the given doubly delightful welcome as to make the giver doubly satisfied with the choice. One other thing: when the thoughts turn to Xmas Gifts in the Piano or Musical Instrument line, their natural trend is to include The Cable Company.

The Cable Company is a natural thought in connection with the Xmas Gift Piano, because The Cable Company has, through the liberality of its dealings, made the gift-making of a fine Plano a matter of practically no strain on the pocket-book. Coupled with this, it handles a line of instruments that professional musicians and the music world in general know as standards of Piano manufacture— instruments of world-wide reputation, that possess in the highest degree the qualities of endurance of tonal excellence, and the rich, sustained singing tones known only to Pianos of the highest grade.

SCHOONER TOWED IN.

The schooner towed in last night in distress by the Merritt and Chapman Wr. Converse. She started from Port Royal, S. C., and encountered a storm which carried away her salls and left her helpless leaking and her deck lead gone. The Rescue went from here yesterday afternoon, and after great difficulty and danger got a tow line to the schooner and towed her in. During the attempt to catch the three-master, which was in distress off Dam Neck on the Virginia coast, one of the men of the Rescue fell overboard and was pulled out of the raging sea with great difficulty and at the risk of the life of the seman who made the effort. Captain Williams and crew remained on the schooner all the time and kept the pumps going to prevent the schooner from sinking even while she was towing in, and when the water was gaining all the time. She belongs to A. J. Newberry, of New Jersey. Captain Williams commanded the schooner, Job H. Jackson which was sunk here recently in a collision with the steamer Bayport.

Istored 12 degrees above zero, or 20 degree below the freezing point.

There have been two snows and about eighteen frosts, six or eight of which have been 'Killing' frosts.

The season so far since November 1st has been exceptionally fine for hunting, though game is remarkably scarce.

Many of the older sportsmen hereabouts have determined to eschew the hunting of partidridges until the next season. There seems to be general opposition, however, to the passing of a law forbidding the hunting of birds for two years, as it is thought if next spring is a dry one a sufficent quantity will raise to furnish sport next fall.

It is understood that there are also few deer, and fewer wild turkeys than for several years. Rabbits in some sections are scarce, while in others they are said to be as plentifyl as ever.

Since game is so scarce and the outlook for hunting is so unpromising, the sportsmen hereabouts will turn their attention more to fishing, and efforts are being made now to have all the streams and ponds in this section stocked with many choice varieties from the government fish hatcheries.
